¿CONCIENCIA?

El arquitecto debe ser consciente de su responsabilidad social y ambiental. Esto implica tener en cuenta el impacto de sus decisiones y acciones en la sociedad y el medio ambiente. La conciencia es el primer paso para lograr un cambio positivo.

CONCIENCIA Y PRAGMATISMO

La conciencia y el pragmatismo son dos aspectos que deben ir de la mano en la arquitectura. La conciencia nos permite entender el contexto y las necesidades de la comunidad, mientras que el pragmatismo nos ayuda a encontrar soluciones viables y sostenibles. Juntos, forman la base de una arquitectura responsable.

AALIA

6. ALL SKYLIVING Case Study

As a high-rise structure development in Green Bay, an up-and-coming graduate student in the state of Wisconsin, United States, AALIA was tasked to develop its brand architecture from the very beginning, starting from brand strategy and development, followed by the delivery of logos and other essential graphic design.

Since the brand was initially well planned, the initial development was simple. A strategy was developed to create a better visual identity (consisting of AALIA, AAL and The) to create an excellent, strong and more vibrant image and successful real estate developments in the city.
